THE ANNUAL MEETING 5-6 SEPTEMBER

The LUCCI Annual Meeting will be on 5-6 September. A registration form and draft program will be sent out before summer.

ORGANISATION: Lena Ström new coordinator

Since the beginning of 2016 Lena Ström is the coordinator of LUCCI. Lena works at INES and is lecturer with long experience of research on biogeochemical carbon cycling.

Anna Ekberg (former LUCCI scientific secretary) has from February this year moved on to other work. This means Susanna has taken over some of her duties.

ACTIVITIES: website, annual meeting, LUCCI future, R3I, final conference

- A new LU style website is now launched, and we hope it will be useful for all LUCCI members but we also aim to improve on outreach to stakeholders and the public.
- As said at the annual meeting last year, this year there will be no report as in previous years, but a shorter more formal one, with no abstracts. The report will be compiled after the annual meeting.
- The funding for Linnaeus environments will run out in 2018. However, it is our hope that LUCCI as an environment still continues, possibly in a slightly different shape. Discussions are going on for future collaboration with the Bolin Centre for Climate Research (involving researchers from SU, KTH and Rosby centre).
- We will have our annual meeting on September 5-6 at Hotell Öresund, Landskrona.
- Discussions are going on for a final conference in 2018. If you have ideas or want to be involved in planning for that please contact Susanna.
- R3I is doing a series of activities working with the theme "oral presentation skills". It started with a much appreciated workshop at the beginning of the year and continues during the spring and summer with more training opportunities. For more info and contact please have a look at the website /R3I.
